The Shows

Presented in Waxahachie's historic auditorium built in 1902, the hour-and-a-half staged show features southern congregational songs from the first half of the 20th Century performed by a 12-member vocal ensemble with live instruments, very much in keeping with what might have been heard here in the building's first years.

You'll hear quality arrangements of several well-known hymns and gospel songs as well as some less-familiar tunes which enjoyed great popularity at another time in our rich history of congregational singing – especially in the southern United States. At times, you will be invited to join the singing of familiar favorites.

This is not exactly a concert... it's not a sing-along... it's not just a show with a plot or story-line. Waxahachie's Old Fashioned Singing is unique in its format and its setting. Our goal is to be musical, historical, spiritual – and fun!
